Weakness and Deblifty.

How many persons sufter frem deblifty without knowing the causes why they are feeble! In mescases the stomach is the aggressor. Holloway Pills have long been famed for regulating a disordered stomach, and restoring its healthy diges this tone; they are therefore confidently recommended as a never-failing remedy in all cases where the constitution, from any cause, has become impaired or weakened.

These formidable diseases are, unfortunately of frequent occurence; for the most part they creep on gradually, but may be prevented by proper precautions. Holloway's Fils are the surest perservailves against all derangements of the brain and are the specifiest correctors of irregular circulation. If they be taken without delay when lingling in the limbs, drowsiness, cr giddiness comes on, the effect will be marvelous.

All Disorders affecting the Liver, Stomach Whenever the stomach, liver, or bowels are disordered by high living, climate, over-indulgence, undue exertion or other causes, those fine regulating Pills will soon rectify the evil, and specify bring back energy, strength, and cheerfulness to the frame where previously all was lassitude, gloom, and dejection.

and Colds,

In our changeable climate, few persons escape without colds, sore throats, influenzs, diptherin, or bronchitis, for all of which these famous corrective Pills may be taken with the certainty of effecting a cure. While the Pills are expelling all impurities from the body generally, Holloway's impurities from the body generally, Holloway's Olintment should be well rubbed upon the chest and throat; it will penetrate the skin, reduce inflamation, and restore lasting soundness. and Colds,

JUDGE AND JURY.

evening when the judge summed up the evidence and the jury retired. At 12 o'clock ment, and who was taken back to Newgate the jury were called into court and, as there was no probability of their agreeing to a undergo the sentence of death, having reverdict, were discharged, the judge declar-ing the commission had terminated that day. It is The prisoners were however taken back to gaol and brought up for trial again at the summer assizes. At this trial Winsor's com panion, Harris, was brought up to testify against her, and it was on her evidence that she was convicted. The prisoner's counsel obtained the Attorney General's flat for a writ of error on the ground that the prisoner had previously been tried, and the jury, without coming to a verdict, discharged by the judge. It was contended that the judge had no power to discharge the jury under the circumstances-that it was done without the consent or motion of the prisoner, and when there was neither illness nor incapacity among the jurors. The counsel further contended that it was the judge's place under the circumstances to ask for a verdict of "not guilty." There was also an objection taken to Harris's evidence, on the ground that she was imprisoned on the same charge as Winsor. When the case came up before the Lord Chief Justice, the Solicitor General argued that an abortive trial was no bar to a second trial for the same offence, and that Harris's evidence was perfectly legal, inasmuch as a prisoner indicted with another could be called as a witness, provided he was not at the time upon his trial. On the part of the prisoner it was contended that the jury were interrupted in their deliberations, and called into court and discharged, when a few moments later they might have acquitted the prisoner. By this the prisoner had been

The Lord Chief Justice went into the early history of English jurisprudence, and showed that it had been held at one time by the most eminent judges that when the jury were once discharged the prisoner could not be again brought to trial on the same offence. But the ruling of judges in more recent times was different. Blackstone asserted the right of judges to discharge juries in cases of evident necessity; when, for instance, the juryman or the prisoner takes ill; and since his time this discretionary power had been frequently exercised. The Lord Chief Justice considered it essential that this discretionary power should be protected to the utmost, and thus comments upon the jury system gene rally: "Our ancestors insisted on unanimity as the essence of the verdict; but they were unscrupulous how they obtained it. Whether the minority gave way to the majority or the reverse appeared to be a matter of indifference to them. It was a contest between the strong and the weak, the able-bedied and the infirm, as to who could best suffer hunger and thirst, and all the miseries incidental to such a state equally incumbent, or was the duty of the judge, to take a jury who could not agree on a verdict to the confines of the county. It is very much doubted if that was the law, and there is nothing extant on record to show that such was the fact. Assuming so, I hope we look upon trial by jury and the principle upon which they ought to act in a different light. We do not desire unanimity otherwise than unanimity of conviction. It is very true that a small minority-one or two jurymen-may have a conviction, but not strongly or deeply rooted as not to feel justified in giving way to the majority. And if jurymen only adopt a weak conviction on given points, they might yield to the stronger and more determined views of the others; but I hold it to be the essence of a juryman's duty, if he has a firm, deeply rooted conviction (either in the affirmative or negative of the issue), not to give it up although the ma-jority are against him, to purchase his freedom and get rid of the inconvenience. That being so, and when a judge is perfectly convinced that a reasonable time has elapsed, and the judge is perfectly convinced the unanimity of the jury can only be attained through the sacrifice of honest, conscientis ous convictions, why is he to subject them to the terrors of all the miseries of men shut up without meat, drink, or fire, in order that the minority might give way, or the majority who could not purchase their liberty without a sacrifice of conscientious duty? The Lord Chief Justice then comments of the peculiar position in which the judge in the first trial of Winsor was placed. It was twelve o'clock on Saturday night, and the judge could not accept a verdict on Sunday. It was therefore his duty to confine the jur all day on Sunday in the hope of getting verdict on Monday morning. But to keep them the whole of Sunday without meat drink or fire would be inhuman, and yet t were agreed to a verdict) without leave of the Court-the latter having reference to the peaking to the jury only. I question whether, inasmuch as this system of coercion has been handed down to us by our ancestors, if a judge is not to take upon himself the exercise of this discretion, the sconer the Legislature interferes in the matter the better it will be for the administration of justice."

On the question of allowing the companion in crime of Winsor to give evidence against her, the Lord Chief Justice thinks it wrong. They were both joined," he says, " in one

It will be remembered, no doubt, by many of our readers, that a woman named Winsor was tried and convicted of murder at the last summer Assizes for the This was a matter, however, with which the county of Devon. The convict had made a court had nothing to do. They were there trade of infanticide and had got along suc- to hear a writ of error-to decide whether cessfully in her fiendish occupation until the judge used proper discretionary power in arrested, in connection with a young woman discharging the jury and whether the prisonnamed Harris, for the murder of Harris's in. er could be tried again for the same offence. fant. To be Whipped—Judge Begbie at the Assizes in New Westminster has sentenced a jull-bird named McGilvray, well known to the Victoria police, in addition to imprisonment, to be "privately whipped." It strikes us that this would be the most effectual means of deterring some scamps in this neighborhoof (especially Indians) from iting our jull so frequently only to be provided with wholesome food at the public expense in return for an indifferent day's labor.

The bill protecting inventions came up for second reading.

Dr. Helmcken was entirely opposed to the bill; there was no use for a patent law in this colony, it would be better that the colony should have the benefit of inventions and that they should be parented elsewhere. It was found to work badly in the old countries and opened the way to all kinds of black mail, those who made the inventions were not likely to have any very important inventions made in our small population. It would be better if the patent law could be abolished altegether. He thought the bill would do more harm than good.

Mr. McClure thought the bind would do more harm than good.

Mr. McClure thought the hon. Speaker rather inconsistent in his remarks. He first sail patent laws proved mischievous in large communities, and then said the present bill was top premature, on account of our being a small community. natural health returns.

Hollowat' Ointment and Pills.—Fiatu las, Piles, Excoriations, and Strictures, are speedily relieved and ultimately removed by applying this Ointment after fomentation with warm water. Persons suffering from these scourges of the human frame should arrest their progress at once, for it is both insidious and rapid. Fistulas, if long allowed to go on unchecked, not only weaken the nervous system, but destroy life. The sooner these inestimable remedies are used the more certain is success; yet more should despair, lopeless cases have often yielded, and the suffernitions, see a painful death. remedy for diseases of the skin—Ringworm, scurvy, scrofula, or king's evil, sore heads, and the most inveterate skin diseases to which the human race is sunject, cannot be treated with a more safe and speedy remedy than Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which act so peculiarly on the constitution, and so purify the blood that those diseases are eradicated from the system, and a lasting cure is obtained. They are equally efficacious in the cure of tumours, burns, scalds, glandular swellings, ulcerous wounds, rheumaism, contracted and stifficiates. These medicines operate mildly and surely. The cure effected by them is not temporary or apparent only, but complete and permanent.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT—Influenta, Colds.—In discass of the throat and chest, so prevalent in this country, nothing so speedily relieves or so certainly cures as these inestimable remedies. These disorders are too often neglected at the commencement; or are injudiciously treated, resulting in either case. In disastrous consequences. Whatever the condition of the patient, Holloway's medicines will restore, if recovery be possible; they will retard the alarming symptoms till the blood is purified and Nature consummates the cure, gradually restoring strength and vital nervous power. By persevering in the use of Holloway's preparations, tone is conferred on the stomach and frame generally; the fluids are regenerated, morbific mater is expelled, and a happy revolution occurs throughout the system. Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—The mily medical chest that is furnished with these werful remedies needs nothing more. Indigesting the state of the happy revolution occurs throughout the system.

Holloway's Ointment,—Wounds, Scalds, Burns, and Irritating Sores.—The peculiarly mild, soothing, anti-inflammatory power exerted by this ioniment strongly recommends its use to all persons who have charge of children. Accidents will occur in the nursery in spite of the greatest caution and utmost vigilance. The scratch, the burn, or the scald, treated early with this Ointment, assumes no angry aspect, and nover long tortues the little sufferer, whose very cry exites each bystander's compassion and pierces the parents heart. Every nurse should consider this invaluable Ointment an essential to a well appointed unrisery. The Ointment is applicable to any ore, whatever its character. It conducts to health as sure as the compass points to the north.

and gentle in their action, and are as safe as they are efficacious.

Holloway's Pills—No family should be without these pills.—Their long-tried efficacy in. removing indigestion, stimulating the bowels, and purifying the blood, have secured them imperishable praise throughout the globe. Whatever the disease, a few doses will relieve the more urgent symptoms and thereafter completely control all disordered action, rouse the torpid liver, empty the cas gorged sphen, clense the obstructed kidneys, assimilate the food, improve the blood, and thereby confer on the brain and every fenction healthful vigour natural activity, and wholesome regularity in cases of indigestion, dinnerss of sight, headache, mental and physical lassitude, these restorative Pills act as a charm. They expel rheumatiza and gout, while they infullibly correct female complaints in young and old, delicate and robust.

complaints in young and old, delicate and robustHolloway's Pills and Ointment—Stomach and Kidneys. Between these two organs there exists a close and intimate relation which is demonstrated by the wasting which occurs in all diseases afflicting the kidneys. The disordered atomach is often the first index of renal irregularity. Holloway's remedies used at that junctune would cut short many a serious and fatial attack. They act with wonderful efficacy on every organ of secretion, but especially do they regulate the stomach, liver and kidneys, in restoring their healthy functions, and casting out any obstructions or impurities. It is necessary for the ointment to be well rubbed into the small of the back twice daily, when it is absorbed and greatly augments the purifying and salutary influence of the Pills.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS—Acute Rheumatism. In all severe pains in the join a and muscles, after due fomentation with hot water, the soothing action of this Ointment is most remarkable; it seems at once to lessen inflammatien, ease pain, reduce the swelling restore the free circulation, and expel the disease. In these counplaints, indeed, Holloway's Ointment and Pills are an infallible specific. The Ointment should be rubbed as near the part in pain as the patient can bear; it is absorbed and directly conveyed to the diseased textures, when, acting on nerves, ressels, and guiders, it will arrest disease adagain establish healthy action. The aperient and purifying qualities of the Pills have the happies effect in assisting the Ointment.

Holloways Pills.—General debility, lew spirits, and nervous irritation, are the consequences of dyspepsia or indigestion. The Pills soon give tone to the stomach, renovate the digestive powers, purify the blood, and give atrength to the whole system. Sluggishuess of the body and depression of the mind are succeeded by a cheerful activity of the physical and mental functions. Indigestion is the parent of so many visit, and is we can be succeeded as a complaint, what is a great bicasing that such a remedy as fail invaluable medicine should have been discovered.
